

ASSOCIATED COLLEGES OF THE ST. LAWRENCE VALLEY
SUNY CANTON • CLARKSON UNIVERSITY • SUNY POTSDAM • ST. LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY

The 24th Annual Teaching Effectiveness Conference

“Effective Teaching: Engaging a Variety of Learners”

Saturday, October 24, 2015

8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Thatcher Hall

SUNY Potsdam

Potsdam, NY

Featuring:

◆ Renowned presenter, Dr. Michele DiPietro

Dr. DiPietro will provide a 5-hour workshop on the seven principles of Learning, as described in his award-winning book, How Learning Works. His highly interactive workshop will use a combination of interactive lecture segments combined with several activities from learning sciences, replicating key psychology experiments and findings. These activities can include short memorization exercises, reacting to case studies and poems, logic problems, a critical thinking game, a brief dyadic skill-teaching segment, and general discussion.

◆ Networking Lunch

Meet colleagues in your discipline from the other universities and enjoy a delicious lunch, included in your registration

(Get a copy of Dr. DiPietro's book, How Learning Works: Seven Research-Based Principles for Smart Teaching, at your campus or local bookstore or online today! He'll be available to sign your book at the end of the event.)

Register NOW at :

[http://www.associatedcolleges.org/conferences/
TE2015/2015TEConference.html](http://www.associatedcolleges.org/conferences/TE2015/2015TEConference.html)

The first 25 individuals to register from each campus will have the registration fee covered by the office of the Chief Academic Officer at their host institution. Additional registrants will need to cover a $25 registration fee through alternative funding sources. Deadline for registration is October 12th.